

playing for all

Playing for All is the follow-on program to Young Athletes which has been run by Special Olympics Australia in the Sutherland Shire for 10 years.

Unlike other competitive sports, where athletes can compete at various levels, this program's aim is for weekly sports skills in an inclusive, non-competitive setting.

- You can attend for a term or keep coming.
- The term fee works out at $10 per week. Special Olympics Australia is also an Active Kids Provider for redeeming vouchers.
- Activities include skills to participate in various ball games, like basketball, football, tennis, pickleball, as well as other games.
- Each session is run by an experienced and qualified Physical Education coach.
- The aim is to have fun in a social gross motor program without the stress of competition. It could be a pathway to various Special Olympics sports in the area.
